

JFK Probe Selects

5 Veteran Detectives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five veteran homicide investigators from New York City have been selected to conduct the House probe into the slayings of President John F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King.

Robert K. Tanenbaum, 34; Robert J. Lehner, 40, and Stephen J. Fallis, 34, all from the Manhattan district attorney's office, will serve as deputies to chief counsel Richard Sprague.

Clifford A. Fenton, 49, and Edward M. Evans, 45, both former homicide detectives in Harlem and members of an elite "major case" squad, have been named deputy chief investigators.

Tanenbaum and Fenton will head a task force under Rep. Richardson Preyer, D-N.C., investigating the Kennedy assassination. Lehner and Evans will conduct the investigation into the King slaying under Delegate Walter Fauntroy, D-D.C.

Fallis will act as a troubleshooter overseeing both investigations.
